

Dear Coffee & Tea Festival Attendee,

You are important to us. In the last 24 hours, the coronavirus has greatly impacted the New York area and beyond with many events cancelling and governments urging attendees to not attend events or go to crowded places. Unfortunately, today New York State Governor Andrew Cuomo has also issued a mandate for the postponement of all events over 500 people until further notice due to the possibility of exposure of COVID-19.

Therefore, Coffee & Tea Festival: NYC must be postponed. We are actively seeking a new date with the venue, the Brooklyn Expo Center, to reschedule the event for another date this year. We plan to announce the new date next week as calendars get ironed out and contracts in place. Please watch your email and/or follow us on Facebook for an announcement regarding the new date. All tickets will be transferrable.

We have to be very clear-eyed about what's going on, avoiding wishful thinking as much as avoiding panic. We appreciate your patience and cooperation.
